		supplemented by standardized test scores taken (PSAT, SAT, and/or Stanford, if taken), and teacher/counselor recommendations. Students who will be entering the 10th, 11th or 12th grade the following fall, or who will have just graduated from high school before the summer begins, are eligible to apply. Architecture is a fundamentally social art that combines practical requirements for human use with a poetics of form and meaning. Although architecture may take years to master, those who study it in college have usually harbored an intense curiosity about the subject from at least their early teens. This introductory studio and accompanying lectures and field trips will give you a broader, deeper understanding of architecture and also the opportunity to build a portfolio for use in applying to schools of architecture should you eventually wish to do so. This course presupposes no prior knowledge of architecture, simply a visual awareness and willingness to learn Application will open on January 1- June 1, 2024.
